August Meeting 2010

The August meeting was our annual picnic, it was a beautiful afternoon with good food and good friends. Thanks to Ron and Carolyn Gooley for their hospitality.

September meeting:

Jim Christiansen and Ed Krumpe will discuss form and design. Don't miss the chance to get some tips from the pros.

Wood Raffle:

Don't forget to bring something for the raffle table. Dan Chadwick will also have a trailer full of green maple slabs that we will auction off out in the parking lot.

Wood carvers:

October 2nd and 3rd is the annual Wood Carving show at SCC. We have always had a few volunteers to work the admission table. If you would like to help out, please send an email to chadgladhart@gmail.com or call me at 869-4128 before our September meeting. Four shifts: AM & PM Saturday, AM & PM Sunday.

Russ Fairfield in the American Woodturner:

Russ will be starting a regular column in the American Woodturner, the journal of the AAW. He sent an email to everyone, but if you don't read your mail or missed it, he'd like to hear from members (especially the newer turners) regarding questions and subjects you'd like to see covered in his column. We'll put this on the agenda for discussion at the meeting.

Wood Alert:

A couple weeks ago I sent an email around regarding a turner in Curlew who is moving and wants to sell his lifetime supply of turning stock. After eliminating those members who "...already have more wood than they can turn in a lifetime..." there wasn't enough interest to put together the 3-hour trek to Curlew. He's still got the wood and would be willing to load a pickup full and meet in Colville. Now, is anyone interested?? Send me an email if this sounds like something you would like to do.
